The School of Computing and Electrical Engineering (SCEE) at the Indian Institute of Technology Mandi (IIT Mandi) invites applications for full-time regular faculty positions (Assistant Professor) in Computer Science Engineering (CSE) and Electrical Engineering (EE). The SCEE at IIT Mandi encompasses the disciplines of CSE and EE. As part of an initiative in CSE and EE, IIT Mandi plans to add new faculties to the SCEE. Successful candidates will be part of our exciting journey in transformative research and disruptive technologies developed by the SCEE to produce the next generation of scientists, engineers, and entrepreneurs in the below-mentioned and related areas.

	Computer Science Engineering	Intelligent Communication Systems	Power Electronics	Control & Automation	VLSI
Assistant Professor (Grade-I & Grade-II)	Areas of Algorithms, Compilers & programming languages, Databases, Computer Networks, Computer Architecture, Operating System, Software Engineering & AI/ML	Areas of Signal Processing, Communication, Networks, Optical & Quantum Communication	Areas of Electrical Machines, Machine Drives & Applications	Areas of Control & Automation	Areas of RF IC & Analog circuit design, design for testability & verification, CAD for VLSI

The School offers various B.Tech., M.Tech., M.Tech. by research and Ph.D. programs and encourages interdisciplinary research. The SCEE encompasses the disciplines of Computer Science and Electrical Engineering. The faculty members of the school actively research and teach in the areas of, but not limited to, theoretical computer science, systems engineering, intelligent systems, quantum computing & quantum communications, intelligent communication for next generation systems, optical communication, photonics, communication and computer networks, control and automation, IoT, bio-medical systems, microelectronics, VLSI design and fabrication, power systems, power electronics, electrical machines and drives.
